TO HAVE ELECTRIC LIGHTS.

Grant City to Furnish Light to Parnell and Sheridan.

A meeting was held in the opera house Thursday night of last week to talk over the matter of electric lights for the town of Parnell. The owners of the Grant City Electric Light company want to extend their system to Parnell and Sheridan, provided they get the proper encouragement.

Mayor Morgan was elected chairman of the meeting and H. O. Gray secretary. There wasn't a very large attendance, but those present were very enthusiastic over the matter.

A committee composed of Dr. Crowson, H. O. Gray and L. C. Gooden was appointed to investigate the matter of lights. Another meeting will be held when the committee is ready to report.—Parnell Sentinel.

Purviance Will Filed.

The will of the late Henry S. Purviance has been filed with Probate Judge Conn. Mr. Purviance died April 14th, 1914, at Rochester, N. Y. He was a resident of this city. Inventory of the estate has not been filed. Hugh H. Purviance was appointed administrator of the estate.

Teachers Elected.

T. W. Cooper of Sheridan has been elected superintendent of the Skidmore public schools for the coming year at a salary of $100 per month.

Miss Ruby Ruddell of Maryville has been re-elected as teacher at Bell Grove school with an increase in salary from $55 to $60 per month.

Edgar Alexander has bought property in Maryville and may decide to locate there. He intended to go to Portland, Ore., this month, but decided that Nodaway county was a pretty hard place to beat. Edgar has several weeks' work engaged in Burlington Junction and vicinity and will not leave here until it is finished.—Burlington Junction Post.

CELEBRATION AT PARNELL.

They Have a Chance to Get Colored Celebration, Says the Sentinel.

Parnell has a chance of getting the colored celebration on Emancipation day this year. All that will be necessary is for the people here to say that they want it. Maryville has had it for a number of years. We saw one of the Emancipation day leaders of Maryville the first of the week, and he said they had been thinking of bringing it to Parnell this year, provided, of course, our people wanted it. It would be held the first week in August.—Parnell Sentinel.

HAVE HORSE RACING.

Real Old-Fashioned Fair Will Draw the Big Crowd.

The Parnell Sentinel has the following about the county fair:

At a meeting of the Maryville Commercial club Tuesday night the members were almost unanimous for a county fair and Chautauqua, both to be held at the same time and place. This is all right, but if you want to have the real old-fashioned kind, like Maryville used to have, that brought the extra big crowds, horse racing will have to be added. With this kind of sport might be added automobile, motorcycle, bicycle and other similar entertainments. People nowadays like a variety which is the spice of life.

HIGH SCHOOL DAY.

The winner of the essay contest and the winner of the debating contest will each be awarded a scholarship of $125. Winners of the track events will be given loving cups and medals. A large silver trophy cup will be awarded to the school scoring the greatest number of points. A souvenir flag will be given to each contestant, whether or not winning a place in any competition.

One of the important features is the conference of teachers in accredited schools and in the University of Missouri. This will be held Saturday morning. All teachers are invited.

FOR COUNTY FAIR

A COMMITTEE APPOINTED TO FORMULATE PLANS.

TO REPORT TO CLUB

Strong Sentiment for a Fair and It is Nearly Assured—Seven Members on Committee.

President Fred Hull of the Commercial club has appointed a committee composed of Fred P. Robinson, F. C. Conrad, Lawrence Ogden, Ernest Wray, Harold Bellows, W. O. Garrett and R. P. Hosmer to formulate plans for organizing a county fair for Nodaway county. The committee is to report to the board of directors of the club on Monday, May 11, of the feasibility of such an organization and whether a fair could be put on this year.

The committee will get to work at once to formulate their plans for a fair association. It will probably require about $25,000, and the plan is to sell the stock in small shares to the people of the county, the idea being to get the financial interest generally distributed. Mr. Robinson favors the leasing of forty acres for a term of twenty years. The report of the committee will consist of plans of organization, whether a fair could be put on this year and also other details that they are able to find out.

The sentiment over the county seems to be strong for a fair.

ANOTHER NIGHT IN BOHEMIA.

Was Well Attended at the Empire—Developed Several Stars.

A large and appreciative audience was in attendance at the Empire theater Thursday night, when a home talent company gave "Another Night in Bohemia," under the direction of Glenn Goff. The chorus was well balanced and sang many catchy melodies, interpolated with many brand new jokes. The solos which were sung by members of the company were well executed and showed much training along the lines of voice culture. In the olio, "Up in the Air," each member of the cast performed his part in a manner resplendent to a Frohman or a Russell. Fred Lewis, in the role of Smith, the insurance agent, especially developed many troubles by appearing on the scene at the wrong time and being mistaken for several different personages, and nearly being the participant in an aeroplane flight, decided to end his troubles by way of the portico route, which concluded the act amid much applause from the audience.

Edison Blagg and Jesse Miller, Jr., in their cross-fire singing and talking act, performed in a manner becoming any of our modern vaudeville stars.

The piano trio, by Besse Scott, Edith Wilson and Glenn Goff, met with several encores, and several steps of the tango were executed in a beautiful manner by Miss Scott and Mr. Goff.

The sextet from "Lucia," by Fleming Carpenter, W. David, Glenn Goff, Besse Scott, Edith Wilson and Amy Clark, was well portrayed.

The proceeds from this entertainment will be given to the charity board of the city, to be used by them for charitable purposes.

100,000,000 PEOPLE

UNITED STATES SHOW WONDERFUL GROWTH IN POPULATION.

INCREASE IN MISSOURI

Immigration North, West and South Takes Few Thousand Out of Hawkeye State.

The United States is now a country of 109,000,000 people according to the bulletin containing the estimates of population for the years subsequent to the thirteenth census, soon to be published by Director William J. Harris of the bureau of the census department of commerce. It was prepared under the supervision of C. S. Sloane, geographer.

As stated, the estimated population of the United States for July 1, 1914, will be 109,748,992. The population of the United States and its possessions in 1910 was 101,748,269; so there will have been an estimated gain of over 7,000,000 persons in a little more than four years. The corresponding estimated population of continental United States for July 1, 1914, is 98,781,324, as compared with the population of 91,972,266, as returned by enumerators, April 15, 1910. This bulletin also presents the estimates of population in 1910, 1911, 1912, 1913 and 1914 for the states and territories, and for the cities which had 8,000 or more inhabitants in 1910.

Estimates of population are required primarily for use in the census bureau in calculating death rates and per capita averages for years other than the census year. The so-called arithmetical method was adopted for computing these estimates. It is the simplest and it has been shown by experience to come nearer in accuracy in the majority of cases than any other formula. It rests on the assumption that the increase in population each year since the enumeration is equal to the annual increase from 1900 to 1910.

The bulletin presents in its several tables population data for the United States and its outlying possessions in 1910 and 1900, with estimates of the population July 1, 1914, 1913, 1912, 1911 and 1910. Similar data is also presented for the different states in the union. There is also presented a statement of the white and colored population as of July for each of the years 1914, 1913, 1912, 1911 and 1910. These estimates, however, have been confined to the states having a considerable proportion of colored population, no estimate being presented for any state that did not have 50,000 or more colored inhabitants on April 5, 1910, or at least 10 per cent of its population colored.

The estimates of population for July 1, 1914, and the population April 15, 1910, for the states are as follows:

TELLS OF SCHOOL

ARLINGTON, TEXAS, PAPER COMPLIMENTS DR. TAYLOR.

HEAD TRAINING SCHOOLS

And the Principals Are V. I. Moore and J. C. Godbey—School is Having a Good Growth.

From a paper received from Arlington, Texas, it speaks of the Arlington training school, of which Dr. H. K. Taylor is the superintendent and Prof. V. I. Moore and Prof. J. J. Godbey the principals. Dr. Taylor was formerly president of the Normal school here and Prof. Moore an instructor and director of athletics of the school.

The work of the Arlington school extends from the fourth grade and includes four years of high school and two years of college work. The school is a training school for individually developing each pupil in methods of study, high ideals of character and proper relation to others.

According to the school paper, The Reville, the prospect for the next year is that there will be from 60 to 75 local pupils and not less than 40 to 50 boarders. The paper says that the school is having a phenomenal growth.

At a meeting of the citizens of Arlington held recently the business men and professional men of that town unanimously endorsed the management of the school and as a concrete proof of their confidence in the men behind it and their interest in its success they guaranteed sixty local scholarships for the next school year. The school is to make decided improvements, such as in the equipment and facilities. Two members will be added to the faculty and laboratories for chemistry and physics will be installed, and the main building, barracks and other buildings will be overhauled and painted.

Miss Hattie May Taylor is one of the associate editors of the Reville, and Jack Taylor has been elected basketball captain for the year 1915.

Going Home.

Just to go home when the day's work is over,
Just to go home when the sky's getting gray,
That's best of all, if a man's a home lover—
Just to go home with the laddie to play;
Just to go home to the wife who is waiting—
What of the cares which are past or to come
When it brings happiness, the tired heart elating,
Just to go home.
Bright visions fade and hope's buoyant must perish,
No man may live without sorrow and pain,
Yet, if life's one dearest gift we but cherish,
Love brings the dreams and the hopes back again.
Knowing our loved ones are waiting to greet us,
Troubles must melt like the bubbles in foam;
Sorrow and loss of content cannot cheat us,
When we go home.
What a good world is this world which we live in?
What a good life is this life which we lead!
Weary we grow in the race which we strive in,
But the reward is repayment indeed!
Long is life's workday, but sure is the guerdon
When stars awake in the darkening dome;
Gladly we live and toil on with the burden,
Just to go home.
—Lee Shippey.

W. J. Hutton spent Saturday and Sunday in this city with home folks. Mr. Hutton is now located at Grand Island, Neb. He expects to move his family to that place within the next month.

WHY ARE WE AFRAID?

Everyone Has Something He or She Stands in Fear Of.

Why are we afraid? What are we afraid of? We all have something we are afraid of. What it is depends on the individual. Some people are afraid of the dark; others are not. Women are afraid of mice; men are not. Some children are afraid of dogs; others are not. Some babies are afraid of strangers; others are not. Some people are afraid of burglars, others are not. Some people are afraid to stay alone in a house. Since some people fear things that others do not, we may safely conclude that the cause of the fear is not in the thing, but in the person. If the fear arose out of the object, then all people would be afraid of it.

What we are afraid of depends on us. We can make ourselves afraid of anything we want to, be it the fear of being poisoned or of being laughed at. And since we can make ourselves afraid of anything we can cure ourselves of any of our fears, our fear of the dark, our fear of staying alone or any of the others.

Our fears generally start from some past experience, to ourselves or to our friends. A friend may have been killed on a railroad train, and the knowledge of that accident may always make us uncomfortable when we travel. A relative may have been poisoned, and we can think about it until we are afraid of being poisoned. Alone, late at night we read of a murder in the paper, and instantly we begin to interpret every little sound as the stealthy approach of an assassin. Stories of goblins told the children to keep them quiet may fill them with a dread of the dark that will persist after they have become men. And yet, if we stop to consider it, we will find most of our fears are groundless. We can cure ourselves of them by banishing all thoughts of them from our minds and thinking of something else.

The fact remains, we are afraid of what we allow ourselves to be afraid of.—Alfred Westall, Colorado Agricultural College.

Tells Mothers What To Do For Delicate Children.

"My little boy has been rather delicate for a long time. He was always very pale and his appetite was poor. Several people recommended 'Vinol.' I gave it to him and he took it willingly, as the taste is delicious. In a short time I noticed a great improvement in his appetite. He soon had more color in his cheeks. He is now well like other children and romps about every afternoon after school. I am so happy with what Vinol did for my little boy that I want every mother to know about it."—Mrs. C. R. Applegate, Dayton, Ohio.

This delicious cod liver and iron preparation without oil is a wonderful body builder and strength creator for both young and old. We promise to give back your money in every such case where Vinol does not benefit. This shows our faith in Vinol. Orear-Henry Drug Co., Maryville, Mo.—Advertisement.

PEARL FISHERIES.

A Brief History of the Pearl Industry and Their Value.

Of all the valuable articles of adornment perhaps the pearl is the most widely distributed over the earth. It has been prized for its beauty by prince and pauper, by the pampered favorites of modern potentates and by the dusky beauties of prehistoric savage chiefs. It has been an article of great price for ages, and it is as practically useless, as perfectly beautiful, and as outrageously expensive today as it ever was. Its possession has ever been a mark of wealth. The Indian rajahs for ages collected the beautiful gems from the famed fisheries of Ceylon, the Ptolemies of Egypt had their divers divest the Red Sea of its nacreous treasures, while the Macedonian Greeks spoiled the Persian gulf. To get them, fleets have been fitted out and continents exploited, for the fact that pearls were found in the new world by Columbus had much to do with its subsequent development. The glitter of gold and the sheen of the pearl lured on the bold conquerors of Mexico, and nerved the daring of Pizarro's adventurous band to the conquest of Peru.

It was in 1498, when on his third voyage, that Columbus sailed into the Gulf of Paria, inclosed between the northeastern coast of Venezuela and the island of Trinidad, where "the natives came to the ship in countless numbers, many of them wearing pieces of gold on their breasts and some with bracelets of pearls on their arms." These, they told Columbus, had been procured along the coast in their own neighborhood, and that is the first we hear of the celebrated "Pearl coast," that portion of the Venezuelan waters which, according to a news item in the Monthly Bulletin of the Pan American Union, has recently been leased to one of its citizens by the Venezuelan government for a period of three years. The concession is said to give the exclusive right to fish for pearls off the island of Margarita and in the sea along the northeastern coast of the republic. The lessee is to pay the government $800 per month during the fishing season for the privilege, and doubtless the enterprise will prove profitable, for here were once located the most celebrated fisheries of American waters.

The principal pearl oyster beds of the region are located around the island of Margarita (Spanish for Pearl), at Cubagua, El Tiran, Gulf of Paria (called "El Golfo de las Perlas" by Columbus) Porlamar, Maracaipana, and Macanao. These fisheries were very rich when found by the Spaniards, but during the fifty years following their discovery were almost ruined by overfishing. During the past century the fishing has been revived from time to time, and in recent years has again become profitable. The government exercises a rigid supervision over the industry and is making every effort to conserve this source of revenue. During the fishing season more than 400 sailing vessels and about 2,000 men are constantly at work along the pearl coast and among the islands. The annual product of the beds in the vicinity of Margarita alone is estimated to have a value of $600,000. It is said that in 1579 King Philip of Spain obtained from Margarita a magnificent pearl weighing 250 carats and variously estimated as being worth from $30,000 to $100,000. The Venezuelan pearls are of very good orient and color, and the fisheries are especially noted for the number of beautiful boraques (pearls of irregular or grotesque shapes) found.

Perhaps the richest pearl fisheries in the Americas at present are those of the Gulf of California, centering around La Paz, and along the outer coast of Lower California in Mexico, and along the entire west coast of the gulf from La Paz to above the island of Toretto and Tiburon, on the east side. Pearls are also found along the southern coast of Mexico and in Nicaragua, and in the Gulf of Campeche, on the eastern coast of Mexico. The principal fisheries of this section are, however, among the Islas del Rey, or King's islands, now known as the Pearl Islands, lying in the Gulf of Panama, about fifty miles from the City of Panama. These consist of Rey Island, Pacheca, Pedro Gonzales, San Jose, and a number of smaller islands to the north. Some beds are worked along the Atlantic and Pacific coasts of Colombia and on the latter coast as far as Ecuador and Peru. The Costa Rica, Panama and Colombia fisheries are famous for their black, green and bluish tinted pearls, while many beautiful, delicate pinks have also been found. With hardly an exception there are American pearls among the crown jewels of every ruler in Europe.

To Attend Commencement.

Rev. Gilbert S. Cox, Miss Nellie Wray and W. M. Oakerson will attend the rural commencement exercises to be held this evening at Gaynor. Rev. Cox and Prof. Oakerson will deliver addresses and Miss Wray and Rev. Cox will give a number of selections.

QUIET REIGNS IN STRIKE ZONE

Conditions Peaceful as Federal Troops Relieve Militia.

MORE SOLDIERS ON THE WAY

Miners Thus Far Have Not Surrendered Arms and Union Leader Says Men Will Probably Keep Weapons, as Guns Are Their Own Property.

Denver, May 1.—With federal troops in control conditions are quiet in the Colorado strike zone. State troops were being relieved as rapidly as the regulars were sent to points where disturbances have occurred and the militant strikers are said to be dispersing. The federal soldiers now are patrolling the Fremont county district and regular troops under Captain Parker superseded the militiamen at Walsenburg. The regulars also occupied the Ludlow district today and the national guardsmen from both Walsenburg and Ludlow are expected to reach Denver tonight.

Thus far the strikers have surrendered no arms either to the militia or the federal troops. Leaders are engaged in going about among the hills of southern Colorado urging the men to disperse and return to their homes, but, according to John Lawson, international board member of the United Mine Workers of America, they have not been told to give up their weapons.

Return to Homes. "Men in all walks of life fought with the miners in their conflict," said Mr. Lawson. "But they will not oppose the federal troops. They would not have opposed the militia had it not been for the gunmen affiliated with them. Now they are returning to their homes—those who have any left. The tent colonies at Ludlow and Forbes will be rebuilt."

"The guns are the property of our men," added the union leader, "and so far as I know they will keep them." The immediate withdrawal of state troops from the strike zone and the speedy disarmament of all mine guards are among the conditions named by the union leaders. "Without this there can be no peace," said Lawson.

At the governor's office it was stated that an appeal for help had been received from Sheriff McAfee of Weld county, who feared an attack by strikers upon the mines in the vicinity of Frederick. A detail of 120 militiamen is still at Louisville.

Adjutant General Chase stated that the state troops were being withdrawn as rapidly as the regulars were sent to replace them at different points. The matter of disarmament, he said, had been turned over to federal troops.

Three miners from Routt county reported to Governor Ammons that every man employed at the Oakdale mine, near Steamboat Springs, had received a threatening letter. No troops are stationed there.

At union headquarters no estimate upon the probable number of strikers dead and wounded in the fighting at Forbes and Walsenburg was forthcoming. "We have been too busy looking after the living," said John Lawson.

COAL OPERATORS STAND PAT

Refuse to Consider Negotiations for Settlement.

Denver, May 1.—Nineteen coal mines operating companies of Colorado—practically all within the state—positively and drastically refused to consider a suggestion made by Chairman M. D. Foster of the house mines committee that negotiations for a settlement of the Colorado coal mine strike be entered into upon the basis that the recognition of unions had been formally waived by the United Mine Workers of America. This refusal was announced after a telegram which Dr. Foster had sent to John D. Rockefeller, Jr., in New York, calling upon him to settle the strike without recognizing the union, had been referred to the mining companies of this state.

SENATE DISCUSSES STRIKE

Martine Would Make It Crime to Employ Armed Guards.

Washington, May 1.—Urging it was high time for the senate to take steps to stop the "monstrous proposition" of Colorado mine owners arming thugs to shoot men, women and children like dogs in a kennel, Senator Martine of New Jersey addressed the senate in favor of immediate action on his bill to make it a criminal offense to employ armed guards.

Returns With Bodies.

Trinidad, Colo., May 1.—Coroner R. B. Sipe returned from Forbes with several bodies of defenders killed in the battle with strikers. One additional body was found. It was that of Joseph Upson, a negro employed as an oiler. The list of known dead stands as follows: Mine employees: S. A. Neman, John Smith, Edward Kessler, Joseph Upson, four Japanese. Kessler, Steve Drovaka.

UPTON SINCLAIR IS SENT TO JAIL

Socialist Refuses to Pay Fine of Three Dollars.

New York, May 1.—Upton Sinclair and the four women who were arrested with him in front of the Standard Oil building while they paraded as "mourners" protesting against John D. Rockefeller, Jr.'s, policy in the Colorado mine war, were found guilty of disorderly conduct and each was sentenced to pay a fine of $3, with the alternative of three days in jail.

Sinclair, Mrs. Donie Listner and Mrs. Elizabeth Freeman refused to pay the fine. Mrs. Belle Zilverman and Mrs. Margaret Remington Charter said they would pay.

Sinclair made a speech in court, saying that he was on the verge of a physical breakdown, but that knowing this he would go to jail and begin a hunger strike. He was promptly locked up.

Mrs. Sinclair joined the "mourners" in the rain. She said she had heard her husband had been sent to jail, but she considered it more important to march in front of the Standard Oil building than to visit him.

Strained His Arm.

Dr. F. R. Anthony strained his right arm Wednesday while cranking his car. The injury is very painful.

QUASH ANOTHER CASE.

Judge Ellison So Held in the Case Against Dr. U. G. Crandell of St. Joseph.

Judge W. C. Ellison of this city, sitting as special judge in St. Joseph, sustained a motion to quash filed by the defense wherein Dr. U. G. Crandell, president of the board of police commissioners of St. Joseph, was charged with oppression in the Michael Hilgert saloon case of that city.

This case was perhaps the most hotly argued of any of the three so far disposed of following the indictment by a grand jury of Dr. Crandell and Joseph I. McDonald, another member of the board. So far the indictments have been quashed in every case. One more, that in which Dr. Crandell is alleged to have given permission to immoral resorts to sell liquor during the interstate fair and live stock show last fall, remains to be argued. It will be taken up by Judge Ellison next Monday morning.

The Hilgert case had its inception January 1 last, when Michael Hilgert's saloon license expired and he was refused a renewal by Dr. Crandell. Hilgert procured an injunction in the circuit court and the supreme court later issued a temporary writ of prohibition in which the circuit court was ordered to keep its hands off. Hilgert then dismissed his suit in the circuit court, made a public apology for things he had said about Crandell and Governor Major, and shortly after that was granted a new license. It was charged in the indictment that Crandell's refusal to sign the license was oppression.

"MOVIES" AND THE EYES.

What the Journal of the American Medical Association Has to Say On This Subject.

The injurious effect on the eyes of the swiftly moving images of the cinematograph has been frequently discussed. It has been shown that a number of disorders of the eyes are caused by this form of entertainment. In Massachusetts a five-minute intermission is required between reels so as to lessen the eye strain. One of the factors in cinematograph exhibitions which favors the development of eye fatigue is poor definition of the original negatives. This is greatly accentuated when the positives which are used are enormously magnified. The smaller the image in the eye the longer the impression lasts and the more the eyes are tired, so that seats nearer the screen are less desirable than those more remote. There is less eye fatigue when sitting not closer than forty feet from the screen.

That the "movies" are a prolific source of eye strain must have been recognized by many oculists, yet, with few exceptions, the attention of the public has not been directed to this important fact, while the victims themselves seldom suspect the cause of their trouble, although many of them suffer from an increase of symptoms even while witnessing the pictures. These symptoms usually consist of headache, vertigo, nausea and fatigue of the eyes, followed later by vomiting, sleeplessness and lack of energy. Physicians and public health officials have only recently realized the important part the picture theaters play in the welfare of the community from a health standpoint. Many theater buildings are remodeled store rooms with no facilities for ventilation. The air is breathed over and over and plenty of opportunity is afforded for contact between infected and non-infected, thereby facilitating the distribution of infectious diseases. In the United States there are over twenty-five thousand moving picture theaters at which there is an average attendance of over fifteen million spectators. This variety of eye fatigue may be largely removed by wearing proper glasses; by patronizing only those places which have good films, proper manipulation and proper intervals of rest between the reels; by sitting at the right distance from the screen (no closer than forty feet) and by not overdoing attendance on these places of amusement.

It has been suggested that licenses be issued only to those proprietors of moving picture theaters who are willing to abide by the following rules: First, to operate the machine by a motor instead of by hand, to have an adjustable take-up or speed regulator and an automatic fire-shutter which renders more accurate the sequence of the individual images; second, to use the arc light with the direct current, which is brighter and steadier than that with the indirect current; third, to have a proper screen, free from disagreeable and harmful glare. The so-called "mirror screen," consisting of a mirror glass with a frosted surface, seems to be one of the most desirable. Fourth, to use no reels which have been in use for over a month. Reels of an inferior quality or which have become scratched from much use give poor definition. Fifth, to allow at least three minutes intermission between the reels.

No Commencement This Year.

There will be no high school commencement at Burlington Junction this spring on account of the extra year that will be added to their school next fall. The class that would have graduated next month will have the opportunity of a full four year's course by the improvement that will be made in the school.

HUERTA ACCEPTS
ARMISTICE PLAN

Agrees to Proposal Hostilities
Be Suspended.

BRYAN MAKES ANNOUNCEMENT

Asked If He Had Heard Anything
From General Carranza, Secretary
Replies He Has Nothing to Say at Present Time.

Mexico City, May 1.—The proposal that there be no further hostilities between the United States and Mexico pending the efforts of the envoys of Argentina, Brazil and Chile to bring about an amicable settlement of the difficulties between the countries, has been accepted by General Huerta.

This was announced by Secretary Bryan after he had been in conference for two hours with the three South American diplomats at the Argentina legation.

Mr. Bryan said he already formally had notified the mediators that the American government "took it for granted that there would be no hostilities during the mediation proceedings and had intended no further acts of aggression while the conferences were being held."

With these replies before them, the envoys were prepared to go ahead with their peace plans so far as the United States and the Huerta governments are concerned. No word had come from General Carranza, however, concerning a proposed armistice between the constitutionalists and federalists in Mexico. Upon the rebel chief's answer largely depends the plans of the mediators for undertaking a peaceful settlement of the Mexican problem, internal strife as well as the differences between the United States and the Huerta regime.

Dampers on Peace Hopes.

News from Chihuahua that General Carranza and General Villa were pushing ahead their southward movement and preparing for a general attack upon Tampico threw a damper upon hopes of peace between the warring Mexican factions.

Secretary Bryan said later that he was in conference with the mediators when the message arrived from General Huerta. When asked if anything had been heard from General Carranza as to whether he would agree to an armistice, the secretary replied that there was nothing to say at this time.

ANSWER OF REBELS

War Move of Villa Is Reply to Offer of Mediation.

Chihuahua, Mexico, May 1.—An answer to the statement made in connection with the request of Latin-American mediators for an armistice, that the next move to be considered by the representatives of Brazil, Argentina and Chile would involve the constitutionalists in Mexico, was made public here.

Representatives of the constitutionalists declared that the preparations being made by General Villa to take the field against the federal garrison at Saltillo is the best answer to any possible request by the Latin-American countries who have offered their good offices to settle the question at issue between General Huerta and the United States to any request for a cessation of hostilities between the federalists and constitutionalists.

Villa is expected to reach the front before Saltillo Monday and expects to put fifteen brigades, totalling 15,000 men, in front of the city.

The movement against Saltillo is not expected to divert rebel troops from Tampico, the capture of which rebels regard as a counter-check against re-establishment of the embargo on arms.

West Coast Steamers Crowded.

Washington, May 1.—Reporting on general conditions on the west coast of Mexico, Admiral Howard reported the arrival of the South Dakota at Acapulco, Raleigh at Manzanillo and the Annapolis at Mazatlan.

"All available steamers on this coast are crowded with refugees," the dispatch continued. "Only three or four small steamers are able to make trips to San Diego. I have asked the Pacific Mail to have all their steamers stop at Mazatlan in passing. The steamer Benito Juarez sailed for San Diego full of passengers. Madre Islands, about 100 miles south of Mazatlan, have been evacuated."

The report from Mexico City that the port of Manzanillo, on the Pacific coast, had been bombarded by an American warship was denied at the White House. Investigation disclosed that a conflagration, said to have been of incendiary origin, had occurred there, but that American forces had nothing to do with it.

The White House communicated with Secretary of the Navy Daniels with relation to the Manzanillo report, and also the dispatches that American marines had landed at Salina Cruz. Admiral Howard, commander of the American naval forces on the Pacific coast, replying to inquiries from the secretary of the navy, told of the conflagration at Manzanillo and also denied that American marines had landed at Salina Cruz.

Conditions at Mazatlan Serious.

auxiliary cruiser Glacier passed San Diego, bound for San Francisco. Sixteen refugees from Mazatlan arrived here on the United States collier Austin. Eleven of them were landed, the remainder going to San Francisco. Conditions at Mazatlan were reported serious, with the rebels investing the town and the water supply inadequate.

Latest Reports of American Dead.

Washington, May 1.—The latest reports received by the navy department of the number of American casualties at the occupation of Vera Cruz is as follows: Killed—Eleven sailors, four marines, one service, one unidentified; total, 16. Wounded—Two naval officers, fifty-one sailors, fourteen marines, three service, unidentified; total, 70.

LINER FIRED ON BY CONSTITUTIONALISTS

Steamer Flying Cuban Flag Made
Target at Tampico.

Washington, May 1.—Rear Admiral Mayo, at Tampico, reported to the navy department that the Ward liner steamer Antilla, flying the Cuban flag, was fired upon and held up in the river there by constitutionalists, but later steamed into port under cover of fire upon the rebels from the Mexican federal gunboat Vera Cruz.

The helmsman of the Antilla was wounded by the rebel fire and the steamer anchored, sending out wireless S. O. S. signals. Admiral Mayo sent alongside a boat with his aide and a medical officer from the flagship Des Moines.

Then officers of the foreign men-of-war off port, headed by Captain Doughty of the British cruiser Hornet, called upon the constitutionalist commander for an explanation.

The constitutionalist officer declared that they proposed in the future to prevent any merchant vessels entering Tampico in order to keep supplies and stores from the federalists.

Soon after this conference, Admiral Mayo's report said, the gunboat Vera Cruz opened fire upon the constitutionalists and then the Antilla, under cover of the shelling, proceeded up the river to the wharves.

Shells from the Vera Cruz set fire to two big oil lighters at the Waters-Pierce refinery.

M. P. TRANSFER UNDER WAY

Circumstantial Rumors Banking Interests to Get Control.

New York, May 1.—Circumstantial rumors that control of the Missouri Pacific railway, the backbone of the Gould railroad system, is in process of transfer to important banking interests were revived in Wall street.

Kuhn, Loeb & Co. are the bankers mentioned in connection with the reported change of control. Members of that firm declined to affirm or deny the rumors connecting their name with the project, but it is known they long have been willing to take over the financial management or responsibility of the road.

Representatives of the Gould family were noncommittal on the subject, except to say that their interest in Missouri Pacific lies chiefly in the bonds of that road and allied lines. It was denied for the Goulds that the recent heavy selling of Missouri Pacific was for their account.

Hope Abandoned for Entombed Men.

Eccles, W. Va., May 1.—Fifty or more miners sought out the bodies of 172 miners entombed in mine No. 5 of the New River Collieries company last Tuesday. Reports from the mine were that fifty bodies had been found, but so far there was no indication any of the miners had escaped the explosion and its deadly afterdamp.

Felon Blamed on Manicuring Shops.

New York, May 1.—Manicure shops and the operators are responsible in a great degree for the spread of felons and various other forms of infection of the hand, according to statements made by Dr. Edward Wallace Lee, before the convention of the Medical Society of New York.
